House Prepares To Pass Measure To Reduce Taxes

Expect Bill To Get Final House Action And Reach Senate During Day

SENATE MAY ALTER MEASURE SOMEWHAT

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—House Republicans will beat back a Democratic substitute today and send their six and a half billion dollar tax reduction bill to the Senate where it faces probable pruning.

Speaker Martin and other GOP leaders confidently predicted rejection of a four billion dollar Democratic substitute and approval of their own income tax cut "with votes to spare."

Action In Senate About 15th
The bill, sponsored by Rep. Knutson (R. Minn.), is expected to be adopted and sent to the Senate by mid-afternoon but action in the upper chamber is not expected until after Feb. 15.

Knutson's bill reduces income taxes from 10 to 30 percent, provides a $100 increase in personal exemptions and extends nationwide the community property system of splitting income for tax purposes.

"The Democratic substitute would provide a $200 increase in exemptions in lieu of the percentage cuts and retain the community property proposal. Under this, all but 800 millions in revenue losses would be recovered through higher corporate taxes."

Reach White House Next Month
Knutson's measure faces pruning at the hands of Senate GOP tax experts with an eye to an anticipated veto by President Truman and the need for Democratic support to override it. Knutson predicted his bill would reach the White House next month.

This represents the third attempt by the Republican 80th Congress to reduce individual taxes. The first two Knutson bills, each for four billion dollars, were passed by Congress last year and vetoed. The House sustained the

According to scientists, the present month of February occupies a unique place in the record of the year. It is the only month beginning and ending on a Sunday in a long period of years. According to the scientists, the same condition occurs only three times in a century. Of course, the situation is only possible during a leap year when there are 29 days in a month.

Local residents got rather a welcome respite from the sub-zero weather Sunday. At one time in the day weather conditions were such that snow was noted to be melting slightly on downtown streets. Temperature got up between 20 and 30 degrees for a period during the day.

Pillars on the Public Square seem to have taken the count again from skidding autos or trucks. Several of the pillars that surround the interior of the square have been bumped over or damaged. They cannot be repaired until a period of milder weather develops.

This is Groundhog Day, and if the groundhog did manage to get out for a look around he would have seen his shadow early in the day. The sun was shining steadily for an extended period during the day.

Births at the Jameson Memorial hospital were 19 less in January of 1947, the records there reveal. There were 104 babies born this

Groundhog Had Scant Chance Of Getting Out Today, Says Owen Fox

Many folks throughout the land, says Owen Fox, city forester, still believe the legend of the groundhog and his shadow on February 2nd of every year—that if the little fellow sees his shadow on that day, we will have six weeks of continued cold weather.

Due to the fact that groundhog territory is well blanketed with snow, should Mr. Groundhog decide to come from his hibernation to oblige the public, he would have to use a miniature steam shovel, to dig his way out. On account of the slanting downward of the burrow to its den, there would necessarily be quite a little snow in the entrance way, which would discourage the animal's coming out.

Large Paratrooper Force In Mass Maneuvers

PINE CAMP, N. Y., Feb. 2.—(INS)—The army moved today to throw back a huge "enemy" force which has "attacked" and taken over a large section of Canada and parts of the northeastern United States.

Traveling secretly in sub-zero weather, about 1000 heavily armed paratroopers assembled in northern New York to launch a counter-attack from the air, and secure an "air head" for American forces.

The vast operation, known as "exercise snowdrop", is being undertaken by the army to increase its knowledge of how to wage war in freezing climates.

The largest formation of twin-engine C-82 "Flying Boxcars" ever sent on a mission in the United States is going to drop the paratroopers over the rugged, snow-covered terrain of sprawling Pine Camp, near the Canadian border.

It is assumed that an aggressor force has taken over the territory stretching from Connecticut thru north central Pennsylvania, west to Cleveland.

New Violence In Jerusalem

JERUSALEM, Feb. 2.—(INS)—Twelve new incidents, including demolition of houses, rail explosions and abductions, resulted in four persons killed and 16 wounded in Palestine today.

The fresh acts of violence occurred as rescue squads ferreted in the smoldering ruins of Jerusalem's Palestine Post building for possible victims of an Arab bombing that wounded 20 persons last night.

Up to noon, two Arabs and two Jews had been killed, while 10 Arabs and five Jews were wounded in the new disorders. In addition a British constable was wounded near Jerusalem's Jaffa Gate.

Administration Gets Setback On Tax Program

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—(INS)—Rep. Doughton (D) N. C., dealt the administration a heavy setback today when he announced his support for a cut-down version of the six and one-half billion Republican tax reduction bill.

Doughton announced his stand as the house neared passage of the GOP bill.

The influential Democrat, former chairman of the tax-drafting ways and means committee, formally advised the house that his chief objection to the GOP legislation was that it provided for "too much" of a tax cut.

He said in a prepared speech that he favored reducing the revenue to between four and four and a quarter billion dollars. If this were done, he added, "in my judgment such a bill would have law with or without the president's sanction."

Russia Makes New Protests On U. S. Activities

Protests American Activities In Iran And In Far Eastern Waters

CHARGE IRAN IS STRATEGIC BASE

By NATALIA RENE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
MOSCOW, Feb. 2.—The Soviet Union, in two sharply worded notes, made public today, protested against American activities in Iran and in Far Eastern waters.

Moscow radio broadcast the texts of the two messages, one delivered to the Iranian government and the other to American Ambassador to Moscow, Walter Bedell Smith.

Total Now Four
The two latest notes brought to four the total number of protests against American activity made recently by the Soviet foreign ministry.

Earlier Russia protested the re-opening of the American air base in Melilla, Libya and the visit of American warships to Italian ports.

(The state department announced in Washington that it will reject the Soviet complaint on the visits of American warships tomorrow.)

Will Establish Base
(At the same time, the state department said it will advise Ambassador Panyushkin that the Melilla transport base will be established with the British consent despite Russian protests.)

The note delivered to the Iranian government reportedly charges that Iran is being converted into a strategic base of the United States and claims that American military advisers are photographing Soviet installations along the Iranian-Russian border while ostensibly on inspection flights.

Some Foreign Assets May Aid Marshall Plan

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—(INS)—Treasury Secretary Snyder announced today that the United States shortly will transfer an estimated one billion 100 million dollars in blocked foreign assets to the alien property office to help Marshall plan countries obtain control of such funds.

Snyder advised the senate foreign relations committee that the National Advisory Council also has decided against any action on an estimated 4.3 billion dollars in "free assets" of foreign citizens in the United States.

Snyder's report and announcement of steps to bring to light hidden assets of foreign citizens was made at the request of Sen. Lodge (R) Mass., who demanded that use be made of all foreign assets in helping to pay for the Marshall plan.

Snyder said the justice and treasury department will carry out the program on blocked assets.

Extend Shutdown Of Detroit Plants

DETROIT, Feb. 2.—(INS)—Some 200,000 Detroit factory workers, who had planned returning to their jobs tomorrow, faced continued unemployment today as the Michigan Consolidated Gas Company extended indefinitely its one-week curtailment of natural gas deliveries.

State and gas company officials have suffered a series of setbacks in their effort to obtain gas supplies for the city. Sixty plants, including major automobile producers, have been idle since last Wednesday.

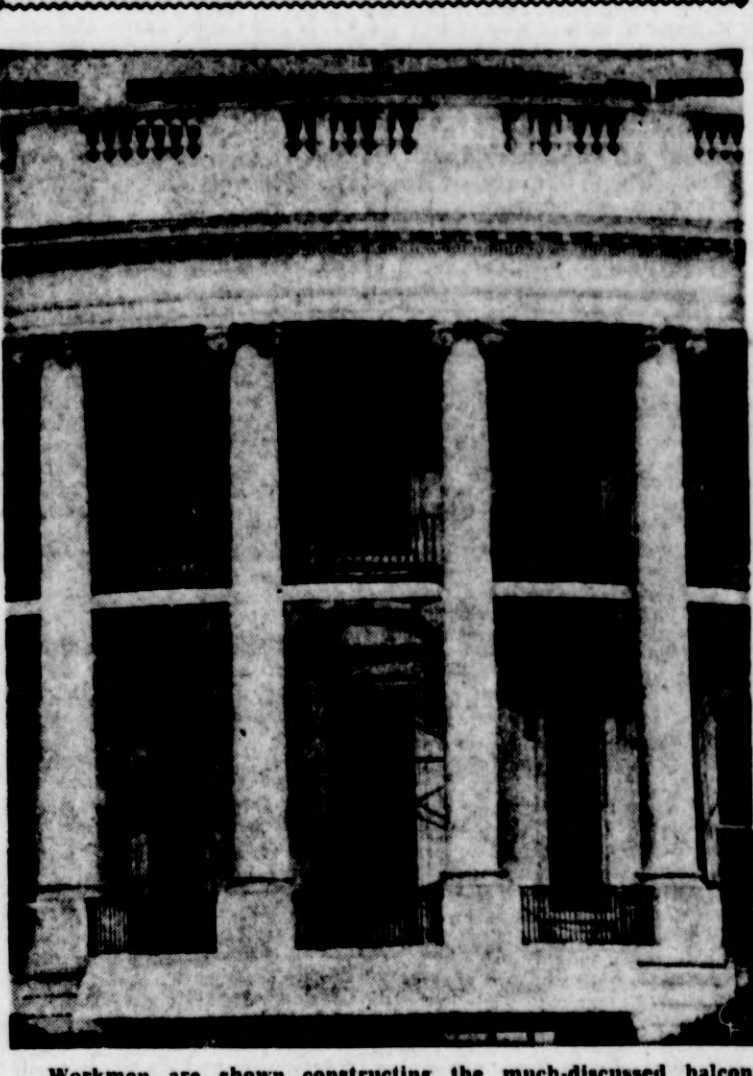

Gas company spokesmen said last week's low temperatures prevented the company from replenishing its depleted stocks. A weather bureau long range forecast of another cold snap this week is expected to add to the already heavy domestic demand.

The gas company could give no definite date on which normal service can be resumed, and many of the affected plants began notifying their employees last night to stay home until further notice.

U.S. Prepares To Bluntly Restate Historic Right

Will Reject Moscow Protests About U. S. Fleet In Mediterranean

(BULLETIN)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—(INS)—The United States today sharply rejected Russia's protest against the presence of American naval vessels in Italian ports.

The United States bluntly told the Soviet nation that the fleet units were in Italian waters as an indication "of the sincere good-will and friendship which exists between the peoples and governments of the United States and Italy."

While arrests of known and suspected agitators continued and 60 persons were taken into custody, the government's stern measures were set forth in a special decree.

It called upon the people to assist the government and "fight the dark forces of evil and violence that are working in our midst."

Police Open Fire

Police meanwhile opened fire twice in the Mahabawri district of Central Bombay when a large crowd stoned the home of extremist Mahasabha Hindus of which Sect Gandhi's assassin was a member.

Crowds also demonstrated before Mahasabha headquarters in Calcutta. The office of a Mahasabha newspaper was raided. Furniture was destroyed and papers burned.

Police seized a jeep fitted with loudspeakers that was touring the city, inciting the people against the Mahasabhas. Four occupants were arrested.

Shortly after Nehru's dramatic speech, the Indian government decreed that "no organization preaching violence or communal hatred will be tolerated and no private armies will be permitted."

New Revenge Riots

Even as Nehru spoke, new revenge riots swept the vast Indian subcontinent. Nine more members of the Ultra-Nationalist "Mahasabha" organization were arrested in Bombay, bringing to 60 the total arrests since Gandhi's assassination.

Teen-Age Wife Held On Charge Of Baby Stealing

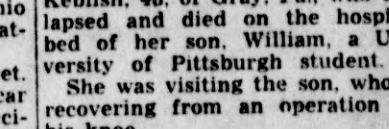

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Feb. 2.—(INS)—A pathetic-looking "teen-age" wife, an admitted kidnaper, is held in Juvenile Hall today pending a determination of what to do with her.

The girl, 17-year-old Dorothy D. Parker, was booked on a tentative charge of suspicion of child stealing last night after she confessed that she snatched six-month-old Leon Gordon Anderson from a parked car near Escondido, 35 miles northeast of San Diego, two nights ago.

The young prisoner, married for two years but now separated from her husband, told Sheriff Bert Strand that she had a baby that died a year ago, that she couldn't have any more babies and "that's why I wanted this one so badly."

The Anders baby was recovered safe and unharmed in Mrs. Parker's hometown of Ramona, 20 miles from Escondido.

India Outlaws All Organizations Preaching Violence And Hits Private Armies

KNOWN AGITATORS BEING ARRESTED

By J. B. SAHNI
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
NEW DELHI, Feb. 2.—The government of India outlawed today all organizations preaching violence or communal hatred and suppressed all private armies.

Premier Pandit Nehru personally pledged himself to an all-out fight against a system that made possible the assassination of Mohandas K. Gandhi, which he told the dominion assembly was "not merely an isolated act."

While arrests of known and suspected agitators continued and 60 persons were taken into custody, the government's stern measures were set forth in a special decree.

It called upon the people to assist the government and "fight the dark forces of evil and violence that are working in our midst."

AFL Resuming Miami Session

Politics Chief Item On Agenda As Labor Leader
Resume Conference

MIAMI, Feb. 2.—(INS)—The high command of the American Federation of Labor resumes its mid-winter conferences in Miami today after a week-end recess. The number one order of business concerns politics.

Before this week is over the AFL leaders, headed by President William Green, hope to have organized formally a "political education league" designed chiefly to fight the Taft-Hartley labor law and to unseat every congressman who voted for the measure.

Operational functions of the political group are expected to be worked out at a special meeting Wednesday, but a formal declaration of the league's policy could come at any time.

Green has made no secret of the fact that the money appropriated by the AFL to finance the political education fund will be used to oppose congressmen who helped make the Taft-Hartley bill a working law.

Enraged Seeker Of Beer Permit Kills Three Board Members,
Then Himself

DULUTH MINN., Feb. 2.—(INS)—St. Louis county authorities today ended their investigation of a backwoods business feud which ended in the murder of three Elmer township board members, the criminal wounding of a fourth and the suicide of their assailant.

The dead were the killer, Joe A. Constanzi, 30, and town supervisors Albert Dupac, 60, and Emil Makkela, 36, and town clerk Frank Svoboda, 34.

Louis Ringhofer, 60, was critically wounded when a bullet from the slayer's 30-30 caliber deer rifle tore a gaping hole in his arm. A fifth member of the board, Albert Bernsdorf, 45, fled into a nearby woods.

Leaves Confession
Sheriff S. A. Owens said that Constanzi, a store owner had written a two-page letter admitting the slayings.

Owens said the killer blamed his actions on the board's refusal to issue him a beer permit and accused the board of giving him the "run-around" to "protect Bernsdorf," who already held a beer license.

The sheriff said after Constanzi had been advised the board could issue him a permit he walked into their regular meeting Saturday and demanded the license "for the last time."

When the council refused, the 30-year-old Elmer shopkeeper went outside the meeting place. Soon, he returned with his rifle and shot down the board members.

Owens said Constanzi returned to his home after the slayings, wrote his confession and then committed suicide.

New Cold Snap Is Heading East

(International News Service)

That old saying about more cold weather if the groundhog sees his shadow on Feb. 2 may have no scientific basis, but the groundhog was right, for the time being at least, when he saw the sun shine today.

A new mass of cold air from the Canadian northwest has started moving across the country and will reach western Pennsylvania by tomorrow, according to the scientific meteorologists. Chicago already is shivering in the new frigid blast.

Temperatures generally were expected to be below zero in most of the area, and near-zero in others. Snow flurries will accompany the new cold snap, and it will be mostly cloudy, according to the forecast.

first veto, but overrode the second, which in turn was upheld by the Senate.

Seek Two Thirds Vote
Republican leaders are striving to roll up a two-thirds vote in both Houses in order to enact the legislation without the president's consent. To what degree they would be successful might be measured by the size of the vote in the House and Senate on passage of the Knutson bill, although Martin said he did not anticipate a two-thirds majority on the first vote.

Martin contended that would come on the final vote after the Senate revised the bill and a conference committee worked out a compromise.

House Democratic leaders, with an eye to the natural desire of all members to support a tax cut in an election year, worked out a compromise which would permit their colleagues to go on record as favoring tax reduction while voting against the Knutson bill.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. Ostreicher, INS Foreign Director

The burdens and responsibilities of the late Mohandas Karamchand Gandhi fell upon the shoulders of another great Indian leader and apostle of peace today.

But the mantle that goes with them will not be the snow-white cloak of simplicity and purity that made Gandhi's bony little figure a thing of uniquely close familiarity throughout the world.

For his successor, for all his passionate faith in Indian independence and his dedication to the creed of non-violence, is a worldly man of immense wealth and almost cold in comparison to the colorful little ascetic whose life was taken by a merciless assassin.

Feeling Of Inadequacy

He is, of course, Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, who confessed a feeling of inadequacy for the terrific task in his initial broadcast announcing Gandhi's murder.

"We who have seen him for these many years cannot turn to him any more for advice or seek solace from him."

"And that is a terrible blow not only to me but also to millions in this country."

Despite his own great intellectual gifts, his vast knowledge of languages, history and philosophy, his questing mind, deep humanitarianism and lack of financial cares, Nehru always admitted that Gandhi's "advice and solace" was his own lifeblood.

Powerful Weapon

Nehru recognized the value of Gandhi's frequent fasts as a powerful weapon in influencing the minds of simple, illiterate Indians away from violence to the ways of peace and cooperation.

But he realized also what Gandhi's death would mean to him and never to prolong his self-immolation to a point where his health would be seriously endangered.

Nehru always considered Gandhi a man for the ages and despite his own aristocratic background and born leadership did not wish to be more than a disciple—to walk in the giant footprints that were left by a tiny sandal.

One thing is certain. Nehru will never lack in courage.

He abandoned his luxurious Kashmiri palace to join Gandhi in the earliest years. He suffered the indignity of seven separate arrests and spent a total of five and a half years in jail as proof of his devotion to the cause.

But although he rose to high position and is now premier of the new independent Hindu state, full leadership he never desired.

That he wanted left forever in the hands of "Bapu". That is what his followers called M. K. Gandhi. It means "the father".

The World and the Mud Puddles

WHY DO IT?

The Marshall Plan calls for eventually spending at least twenty billion dollars to help feed European citizens.

The war was practically over more than two years ago. The soldiers in Europe were told that they could go home and it was supposed that they would go home and again take their places as producers rather than destroyers. European soldiers were supposed to do this. Our soldiers did. The soldiers of Germany, Russia, Yugoslavia, Italy and of other countries in Europe took this message in only a Pickwickian sense. Some of these men able to work started in to raise food and to work in the factories or do anything they could towards the production of wealth, but there were not very many of them. The land was just as fertile and productive as ever, but few crops were planted and for two years the food raised in Europe has been negligible with a few exceptions.

Denmark, Norway, Belgium and the Netherlands, notwithstanding they were hit just as hard, if not harder than any of the other nations of Europe, possessed a recuperating power sufficient for them to say: "Help the rest of the nations. We are able to take care of ourselves. Now, if those little nations, particularly Norway which does not possess very much natural farm land, can take care of themselves, why can't the rest of them do it."

What is the matter with them? Just the idea that has been promulgated—that the rich man across the ocean will do it for them. Uncle Sam, in fact, was the generous chap, the easy-going fellow, that would dig down in his jeans and furnish the means of livelihood. Some newspaper writer has suggested that the pseudonym of this nation be changed from Uncle Sam to Uncle Sap.

If we reject this Marshall Plan of additional help—we have donated about twenty billion dollars already—why Europe, instead of being known hereafter as Europe will just become, all of it, a part of the Russian Soviet—Communism glorified. If Russia wants the job of running the whole continent, why not let them do it. They get sick of it and the nations abroad would get sick of it and they would just destroy each other.

Loose-Jointed Affair
The United Nations is a pretty loose-jointed affair. There is no police power vested anywhere. The subscribers, including Russia, have refused to permit any establishment of a worthwhile base within their borders—no rendezvous for the war ships of the United Nations and no contributions from these nations agreeing to organize the United Nations for the purpose of enforcing any decree promulgated by the United Nations.

No, I think the late Senator Lodge of Massachusetts was an A-1 citizen when he said: "Let's have nothing to do with such an arrangement. Let's take care of ourselves; that is a big job." And when anyone suggests today in Congress that sort of doctrine he is accused of being an isolationist; and to be "put into Coventry."

The big question right now is: Shall the American taxpayer be asked to continue to help feed and care for the lazy and wilfully idle European and take for himself a half loaf, and perhaps no loaf at all in return?

An Argument
"When she was 21 years old she married a Jewish man. There was at first quite an argument between the two families as you can well imagine. However, she and her husband have been unusually happy and have two precious daughters. We have visited their home often and they have frequently visited ours."

"Her husband served in the navy, mine in the army. Her husband came back her husband helped him in every way to secure a job. In fact, he had a job waiting for my husband but my husband had a better offer. Yes, they have indeed been good to us. They are always welcome in our home. She is half Italian, half American. I am half Russian-Polish, half American. Our mothers are dear friends, too. She and I were born in America, she in New Jersey, I in Georgia."

Bit of Progress

Some while ago I heard a Methodist preacher say from the pulpit to a congregation of about as many Baptists as Methodists: "Both Baptists and Methodists are going to heaven. It's just a matter of which group you care to associate with on the way and after arriving." A bit of progress, I thought.

In the Baptist Temple, Philadelphia, a shrine is now under construction in memory of four chaplains, two Protestants, one Catholic and one Jewish, who went down together during the war when the SS Dorchester was torpedoed. The four were standing on deck, when last seen, their hands joined, each praying in his own faith.

Many people can tell if the weather will change by their aches and pains. . . . Often we hear of a scar from a cut or operation getting itchy. . . . the person who feels the itch will say . . . the weather is going to change. Also comes on the foot . . . you each have something that you refer to when that much discussed topic arrives in a group conversation . . . The weather is something that man can't control . . . We are reading much these days where some men say that before long the weather will be controlled . . . maybe to a certain point . . . But if any man thinks that he is greater than the creator he should then join the resting place of Hitler.

True it is possible to dampen the desert by damming up water where the sun and wind might draw it up in the sky to form rain clouds . . . and it is possible to make the rain clouds lose their dampness at a certain given area . . . The New Road Hog

Groundhog Day Superstitions

By J. W. Neyman, Ph. D.

February second is known as Groundhog Day and is supposed to determine what the weather is to be for the next six weeks according to the old tradition.

The marmot scientifically known as marmota monax but more commonly called woodchuck or groundhog is supposed to terminate its annual hibernation on February second to make a survey of the condition of the world. Tradition says it depends on what the little animal sees as to what the weather will be for the next six weeks.

If the day is cloudy and he does not see his shadow, he remains out for the winter's hardships are almost at an end and an early spring will come. But if the sun is shining and he sees his shadow, he becomes greatly frightened and scampers back into his hole to remain for six weeks.

Many people believe that the story of the groundhog's antics is only a myth. They believe that the groundhog hibernates for the winter and does not come out until the warm days of spring. It is strange that this superstition should be held by so many and that it should forecast what the next six weeks of weather is to be.

They Say

WASHINGTON—President Truman sends condolences on the death of Mahatma Gandhi: "Another giant among men has fallen in the cause of brotherhood and peace."

BOSTON—Army Secretary Kenneth C. Royall urges universal military training: "The suddenness with which any future war undoubtedly would come means that sufficient manpower must be available promptly."

NEW YORK—Russell C. Haight, Jr., who fought as a brigadier general in the free Kashmir army, makes a prophecy: "If India and Pakistan get into war you'll see the Russians come down the Ganges pass when the snow melts this summer."

MIAMI—AFL President William Green recommends a revision of American national policy to counter the threat of Soviet Russia: "We can no longer be allies with Russia and we must change our policy."

Hints On Etiquette

Don't fuss when you are entertaining, planning something for every minute of the time. Give your guests some freedom to visit among themselves and to relax. Then you will be considered the perfect hostess.

From Me To You

By MESEALL

Here we are in February already . . . the second it is too . . . and this day is known throughout the United States as Groundhog Day . . . the day that the little fellow is supposed to awaken from a long winter's nap and take a look around . . . if he sees his shadow . . . or if he doesn't see his shadow . . . will change the weather for the next six weeks. Believe it or not . . . but let us tell you something . . . There are hundreds and hundreds of people who really bank on what the ground hog will see today or what he won't see . . . Yes, siree, the old fashioned way of predicting the weather is taken for the one and only way by a multitude of folks.

And next month . . . March . . . has its own little predicting clause too . . . If March comes in like a lion it will go out like a lamb . . . or vice versa. There is something too all this . . . just like you can bank on the sun set and sun rise theory. If the sun set is bright at night, it means sailors delight . . . but if the sun rise is bright in the morning then the sailor will take warning.

Many people can tell if the weather will change by their aches and pains . . . Often we hear of a scar from a cut or operation getting itchy . . . the person who feels the itch will say . . . the weather is going to change. Also comes on the foot . . . you each have something that you refer to when that much discussed topic arrives in a group conversation . . . The weather is something that man can't control . . . We are reading much these days where some men say that before long the weather will be controlled . . . maybe to a certain point . . . But if any man thinks that he is greater than the creator he should then join the resting place of Hitler.

True it is possible to dampen the desert by damming up water where the sun and wind might draw it up in the sky to form rain clouds . . . and it is possible to make the rain clouds lose their dampness at a certain given area . . . Great Game Of Politics

By FRANK R. KENT

(Copyright 1947, By The Baltimore Sun)

One Thing That Should Halt

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—At a recent White House press conference President Truman was asked this question: "Mr. President, have you given any thought to your 1948 running mate?" To this he naturally—and smilingly—replied: "No comment." There was nothing else for the man to say.

PERHAPS because there is nothing to say is why so many ridiculous things on this subject are being written and said. The two most absurd are: (1) That Secretary of State George Marshall is likely to be "drafted" for the Democratic vice presidential nomination; (2) that Chief Justice of the Supreme Court Frederick M. Vinson is likely to resign from the bench in order to accept the same nomination. Certainly, it is difficult to think of anything less likely than either. Yet, hardly a week goes by that one or the other of these reports does not appear in print.

IT really ought to stop—not only because there is such a complete lack of foundation but because it belittles and embarrasses two men doing exceedingly important and difficult work. Also, it tends unnecessarily to confuse the public mind, never any too clear about public men and public affairs, anyhow. Nor does it reflect favorably upon either the intelligence or sincerity of those who sponsor and promote such ideas. It does seem that they must know better.

TAKE the case of General Marshall. More than a year ago, when there was strong sentiment for him as President, the General made an solicited statement on this matter. It deserves to be recalled. He said: "I will never become involved in political matters, and therefore I am not now, nor will I be available for any political office. The popular conception that no matter what a man says he can be drafted as a candidate would be without any force or effect with regard to me. I never could be drafted." The General said this with such conviction and such emphasis that since then literally no one has suggested him for the presidency. On the contrary, his declaration has been generally accepted as a final and complete elimination as a presidential possibility.

YET, despite this, here he finds himself constantly being referred to as vice presidential possibility. Everybody knows he cannot be drafted for first place, but some insist on talking about drafting him for second place. It makes no sense whatever. And the same thing can be said of the "draft" Vinson talk. Chief Justice Vinson occupies the highest and most dignified public office in the country—in some ways higher than that of President. Far removed from politics, he has a lifetime tenure. When and if he retires it is with full salary.

TO SUGGEST that the Chief Justice would resign from that high and secure post to accept a vice presidential nomination with certainly no better than an even chance of election is to suggest that there is something very wrong with his head. It is true that one of the Chief Justice's colleagues—Associate Justice William O. Douglas—is also boomed from time to time for the vice presidency, but not many take that seriously either, though it is recognized that Mr. Douglas loves the publicity and does not discourage the idea.

HOWEVER, that is very different from stepping down from this exalted bench to the lower position of Vice President (and it is a lower position)—even were election assured. So, while Mr. Douglas does not shrink from the suggestion and likes to have his New Deal and "true liberal" friends clamor for him, it is altogether likely he would not take it. Certainly, he hardly could step down with any semblance of dignity at the request of unsavory city bosses such as Frank Hague, of New Jersey, and Eddie Flynn, of the Bronx, whom we are now told are sending messages to him through the not too bright ex-Democratic chairman, Mr. Gael Sullivan. The idea is that these politicians will next put pressure to run. This seems a position a justice of the Supreme Court should not want to occupy—or a President either.

AT Mr. Douglas's age—50—it is a great honor to be on the Supreme Bench. It isn't logical to think that a man deliberately would relinquish that honor for the insecurity of a political nomination to an office such as the vice presidency, the chief attraction of which is the ghoulish chance that a President may die in office. Yet, there is a clamor for Mr. Douglas to do exactly that—a "clamor" organized by Mr. Douglas's friends who know from experience it is not offensive to him. Some of his colleagues take a different view. They hold that that sort of publicity damages the dignity of the court, diminishes the esteem in which it is held, clashes with the tradition of its aloofness from politics. And they would like to have it stopped.

A FEW LINES TO MOLOTOV

From what I hear, it seems to me Life cannot very pleasant be For all, except the ruling few Who tell the people what to do. Though Mr. Molotov may say Harsh things about the U.S.A. Our way of life I'd not replace With what the Russians have to face.

They have no right to what they earn; No choice of books from which to learn; No comforts for their children's nations. Poor food and often none at all; Six in a room designed for one; By day and night they're spied upon. And should they say they like it not. They're taken to the wall and shot.

No, Mr. Molotov! You may Pretend you like the Russian way. But you can have it! You are fed; You never hungry go to bed; You never suffer from the cold. You wear the finest raiment sold. The choicest meats are yours to carve. While millions of your people starve.

One Man's Opinion

By Walter Kiernan

Joe Martin is cool to the suggestion that he take a wife. It's only recently that he became speaker of the house and he likes it that way.

"I understand Joe said 'I am speaker of the house and few married men can make that statement.'"

A clergyman suggested that Joe become husband and president . . . Evidently a man who never had heard of double jeopardy.

Actually, Rep. Martin might look more attractive to the voters as a single man. All those rooms in the White House would become vacant.

In Grand Central station they're putting up a replica of a typical New England street. Typical New Yorkers are trying to move into the buildings.

The railroad says "but these are fakes . . . no back wall." One fellow says "you should see what I'm living in now."

Some Wartime Employers Are Being Probed

By FRANK E. ALLEN
(U. S. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—The Congressional Atomic Committee said today that it is "most actively" concerned about the safety of America's atomic secrets and that it has been reviewing the investigations of some wartime employees.

In its first report to Congress, the 18-member Joint Committee headed by Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa), declared that the "most vital" phase of the atomic field still lies in national defense and stressed heavily the secret-keeping problems which it labeled "tremendous." The group said:

"The concern which large segments of the public, the press and members of Congress have shown for the security of our atomic energy program is shared most actively by members of the joint committee."

Nation Far Ahead

While the committee indicated that it is worried over the danger of information leaks it said flatly that the nation "is presently far ahead of any other nation in the overall knowledge and development in the atomic energy field."

In guarded words the committee hinted that concern over some "specific instances" in the security program—mostly with the "personnel involved" having been employees of the army's wartime Manhattan district rather than of Lillenthal Commission.

The report said that the committee has reviewed the investigation files of employees and contractors, and added:

"In a number of these cases, certain questions were raised and the matters were discussed in detail with the Atomic Commission and its security staff."

Detail Security Policy

"In certain of these cases, the committee has requested that the commission outline in detail its security policy as applied to these specific instances."

"In the majority of these cases, the personnel involved had been employed during the time when the project was operated by the Manhattan engineering district."

The committee, stressing the importance of guarding against leaks through "weaknesses or disloyalty of personnel," recalled that a Canadian scientist passed information along to Soviet Russia. The report said:

"The Canadian incident involving Dr. Allen Nunn May is ample warning to all of us of the consequences of relaxed vigilance."

U. S. Denounces Soviet Charges As Wholly False

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—The United States today denounced as "false" and a complete "distortion" a charge by Russia that America is helping Iran to fortify her borders against the Soviet Union.

Russia's Iranian charge was the latest of four protests made to the United States by the USSR.

Previously, the State department sharply rejected Russia's protest against the presence of United States vessels in Italian ports.

The latest Russian charge was contained in a note broadcast by the Moscow radio which said that the Iranian army was being trained and equipped with American arms. The Soviets also alleged that border surveys were being made, a large airfield built in northern Iran and huge underground oil tanks being constructed in southern Iran.

The State department's denunciation of these charges was made categorically at a news conference by Michael J. McDermott, State department spokesman.

Breaking the Soviet charges down one-by-one, McDermott branded them as "not true."

Several Small Fires Occur Over Week End

Firemen Answer Six Calls; Damage Done Is Reported As Small

City firemen answered six calls over the weekend, but only two were for fires which might have resulted seriously, Fire Chief Thomas stated.

Damage of around $100 resulted to an automobile owned by Charles Johnson, of 216 E. Wallace avenue, at 4:45 p. m., Sunday, when a fire was found in the front seat of the car.

Sparks from a hole in the chimney set fire to the weatherboarding of a house occupied by Juanita Ogden, of 1614 West Lutton street, at 6:16 a. m. Sunday.

Use Skis On Planes Here

—New Castle News Photo

Since Orville Wright made the first flight in a heavier-than-air craft in 1903, man has been trying various innovations in flying. Pilots at the municipal airport have been trying skis on their planes during week-end flying, a new type of flying for pleasure craft.

Skis on planes is not a new idea, but is relatively so here. According to Bud Horchler, manager of the Wilson airport, skis were used on planes for a short time last year. At present two planes are equipped with skis.

In the picture above, an Aerona is shown taking off equipped with skis. The skis make take-offs and landings in snow possible. While flying generally is a thrilling pastime, with skis is more so. Mr. Horchler when asked, said that skis flying will continue as long as there is any snow.

Democratic State Committee Meeting In Capital Today

Democrats Meet To State Delegates For National Convention In Philadelphia

HARRISBURG, Feb. 2.—(INS)—The 113-member Democratic State Committee assembled at Harrisburg today to slate candidates for delegates-at-large to the Democratic National Convention and decide whether to place President Truman's name on the Presidential preferential ballot in Pennsylvania.

A handful of party chieftains will make preliminary decisions this morning and official action will be taken by the entire committee this afternoon as the starting gun of the Democratic Presidential campaign in the Commonwealth.

The party is entitled to 16 delegates-at-large with one-half vote apiece and an equal number of alternates eligible to vote only as replacements. The 66 district delegates (two from each Congressional district) with one vote apiece, will be selected at district meetings.

Plan Discussions
Party rules preclude open endorsement before the primary election of candidates for two state fiscal offices but discussions are expected to turn to candidates for state treasurer and auditor general.

Sen. W. J. Lane, New Washington County commissioner, is considered chief contender for the state treasurer post. Also mentioned is third assistant postmaster general Joseph Lawler, of Scranton.

State Treasurer Ramsey S. Black long will seek the auditor general's seat which will be vacated this year by G. Harold Wagner.

Others mentioned for the other job were Sen. Joseph M. Barr, Allegheny; Joseph J. Vosko, Bethlehem, director of the Pennsylvania Democratic society; Richardson Dilworth, defeated candidate for mayor of Philadelphia last year; and Frank A. Boylan, Carbondale, administrative assistant for Wagner.

Liquor Store Exams Postponed To Feb. 28

HARRISBURG, Feb. 2.—(INS)—The state civil service commission today postponed from February 23 to February 28 the examination for liquor store clerks.

The postponement, second since the tests were scheduled, was made to facilitate administering the examinations which may cover up to 1937 clerks in the commonwealth's 574 retail liquor stores, including 822 ward-drug stores.

The liquor control board was unable to estimate how many vacancies would occur when the post-war civil service system becomes operative next June, but reported eligibility lists for men and women clerks will be established.

Enrollment Large In Adult Classes

Nine Sections In Clothing Necessary To Accommodate 203 Sewing Students

There has been such a large enrollment in adult education courses that enrollments have closed except in one class, a shop class in wood-working for business and professional men, according to announcement made from the office of Dr. Frank L. Burton, superintendent of city schools.

Persons interested in joining the wood-working class are asked to contact Earle M. Cass, director of vocational education of the public schools.

A total of 547 adults have enrolled in the adult education classes this semester and 16 teachers are engaged in giving instruction.

Clothing Most Popular
Most popular course of all is one of the homemaking courses, namely clothing, with a total enrollment of 203 in nine sections. Enrollment in trade extension classes, made up of courses in ceramics for the potteries, blueprint reading for the United Engineering & Foundry company, the Johnson Bronze company and the carpenters' union, totals 94.

English For Foreign-Born
One of the most interesting classes is one in English for the foreign-born. Begun expressly for the instruction of persons who neither read nor write English, this class has as students several foreign-born war brides. There are ten in this class, as large a group as can be instructed and still allow each individual to receive personal attention from the teacher.

In the commercial courses, three sections have had to be made out of 83 enrolled for typing, and two sections out of 48 enrolled for shorthand. Bookkeeping has attracted a group of 19.

In jewelry, one of the home-making courses, two sections are in session with 37 students.

There are 63 engaged in general education studies, algebra, history, French and Spanish.

Classes meet in the senior high school.

A capacity crowd enjoyed the predicaments which involved Aubrey Piper in "The Show-Off", a three-act comedy by George Kelly, presented in Ben Franklin auditorium Saturday evening at 8 o'clock.

Under the direction of Ruth Ni-rella, the Pittsburgh Catholic Theaoff and man about town who was forever getting into trouble, his the cause of it all. During the entire three acts, many of his antics evoked laughter, and at the conclusion of the play all ends well at the Fisher household.

Edward Gratzl played the part of Aubrey Piper, and the romance of the play was provided by Rosemarie Schlangier, who was his wife, Amy.

Others in the cast were: Mrs.
Fisher by Martina Adley; Mrs.
Clara Hyland, a daughter, by Ethel Septak; Mr. Hyland, Al Risko; Mr.
Fisher, Charles C. Curran; Joe, a son, Tom Toner; Mr. Gill played by Thomas Donahue, and Mr.
Rogers by Jack Subaro.

Members of the Nursing Students' society of the New Castle hospital, who sponsored this event, were in charge of the committees:

sisted by Esther Caney; patrons, Ina Arada Gibson, aided by Margaret Hoag and Betty McNeil;

noon.

Young Girl Dies Of Malnutrition Helping Others

Miss Kathleen Lynch Of Evansville, Ind., Dies In Boston
After Collapsing

BOSTON, Feb. 2.—(INS)—Her self-sacrifice for the poor and suffering were blamed today for the death of a 22-year-old social worker who died at City hospital of "starvation and malnutrition."

Following the death of Miss Kathleen Lynch of Evansville, Ind., friends and associates of the East Boston social center revealed that for three years she had worked to aid the ill and poor in that district and had refused to think of her own well-being.

They said a sip of coffee and a piece of toast often was a whole day's meal for the young girl, daughter of an Evansville physician.

Wasted Away
She had wasted to 75 pounds, although she persisted in carrying on her work. She collapsed Saturday and was taken to the hospital where efforts of doctors to prolong her life proved fruitless.

Dr. Richard Ford, associate medical examiner, declared cause of death as "starvation and malnutrition."

Her father, Dr. Paul V. Lynch, said Miss Lynch had been home in Evansville on Jan. 16 and appeared highly nervous. He said she had been treated by a Evansville physician and that he allowed her to return to work when she seemed less depressed and in better health after her visit home.

cutive officer, and James Congiano,

Day dance which will be held in the I. O. O. F. hall, E. Washington street. Plans have been completed for the event.

A drive for new members is underway. Commander Matthews stated, and all ex-navy, marine and

LOOKING AT LIFE

But then, Sunday evening, the telephone rang.

It was my wife's niece in San Francisco.
"Father has just dropped dead,"
she said. "Can you come out right away for the funeral?"

Paul, the niece's father, was my wife's favorite brother. If there were ever a brother and sister who were brother and sister in the very best sense of that relationship these two were the epitome of ideal kinship.

So, naturally, my wife said she would be out as quickly as possible—and just as naturally, I was to come along.
So now here I am in a San Francisco hotel room three thousand miles away from the Connecticut ice and snow, looking out over a city, which to me, is the most picturesque city in the whole country, and in which I started as a cub reporter many years ago.

Snow and ice? Blizzards and howling storms?

Not here in San Francisco.

The temperature at this moment is 63. The sun is shining, and from my window I see green trees and flowers in bloom.

The sky is blue and there is a gentle wind.

Last evening my wife put on her fur coat which she had needed badly when she left Connecticut.

She had to go back to the hotel and change it for a spring coat which she had been cautious enough to bring along.

I, too, wore a light coat. I hadn't wanted to take it long, but my wife made me, and I certainly thank her for it now.

This is Sunday and I see by the papers that there is going to be a band concert in Golden Gate Park
this afternoon.

Mind you, an outdoor band concert in the middle of winter!
To you of my readers who live in California that means nothing, of course.

But to the millions in many other parts of the country who are freezing and shivering and suffering today it must seem like Paradise.

Thousands of people will be sitting in the park and listening to the Overture from "Poet and Peasant" and to "Tales From Vienna Woods"—and other melodies that sing of spring and love and youth and of all the things that make up California.

I wish we could go, too. But our hearts are not on concerts.

This evening they are going to have a burial service for my wife's brother.

HOLY NAME SOCIETY TO MEET WEDNESDAY

Food Budget Problem Suggestions Are Given

What can the housewife do to feed her family well, give them tasty nutritious meals, and still stay within something that resembles a food budget with food prices what they are? This is a problem to which mothers of families are giving a major share of attention in many many households. And Mrs. J. C. Ward, of the Nutrition committee of the Red Cross and the Lawrence County Council of Home Economics Women, has some suggestions.

An answer to the question, "Is there a solution to today's food budget?" on which she has addressed several groups lately under the auspices of the Nutrition committee, is not simple, she says. Nor will the housewife's problem be eased, probably, until Europe, now so in need of food, has had several good harvests, she points out.

As palliatives, to take the stress and strain off the food budget, she suggests that more time and planning and more effort in direct preparation of food on the part of the housewife will help to maintain the standard of nutrition we have come to expect.

Plan Ahead

Equally important are planning ahead of time the marketing and menus by the week or by the shopping period. For some housewives prefer to market for two weeks' meals at a time.

In menu planning, Mrs. Ward puts emphasis on using whole grain cereals wherever possible, taking advantage of whatever fresh produce happens to be in plentiful supply and is consequently a "good buy." At present carrots, cabbage, rutabagas, and turnips are in the latter category.

Dried fruits are an excellent source of nutriment and oleomargarine, now reinforced with vitamins, is a high quality food. "And everyone knows, I think," she commented, "that both fish and eggs are definite diet requirements and both are a good substitute for meat."

Serving Makes Difference

Serving food attractively makes a big difference in the appeal of food and appearance and care in setting the table can hardly be overestimated, she suggests. Turnips, for instance, cooked to an unpalatable gray and served dully on a white plate can be something else again entirely if carefully cooked and attractively served with perhaps a dash of paprika and a sprig of parsley on a pretty dish.

Garden A Help

Home canning and freezing if a garden is available will give the food budget a helpful lift.

"We must learn to be more frugal, for we Americans are still too wasteful with food," Mrs. Ward commented.

As contributory factors to spiraling food prices, she points out that the domestic consumer in the low income brackets has more money to spend for food, and competes more than formerly for the available supply, the fact that the United States can produce still more and better food than it yet has, and coupled with these is the desperate need for food in Europe.

Subsidies For Consumers?

It has been advocated by H. E. Babcock, agricultural economist and Senator George D. Aiken, of Vermont, that there be a consumers' subsidy to help the lower bracket income families secure a better diet, the program to be a long-range one, she mentioned as evidence of the concern of nationally prominent figures over the inflated prices' effect on our national nutritional standards.

As the housewife tussles with the problem of bread up one cent a loaf, milk up one cent a quart, and even the "cheaper cuts of meat" in some cases more than double what they were not many months ago, some idea of the scope involved in the answer to the question "Is there a solution to today's food budget?" is given in the fact that 40 percent of all United States business is directly connected with foods.

Lloyd Kapcewich Given Promotion At Fort Benning

Special orders were recently published authorizing the promotion of Pfc. Lloyd Kapcewich, Service Company 325th Infantry Regiment, Fort Benning, Georgia, to the rank of Technician fifth grade. It was learned today, Corporal Kapcewich is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Kapcewich, RFD No. 3, Volant, Pennsylvania. He attended New Wilmington High School.

Corporal Kapcewich entered the Service September 16, 1947. He served in the Army of Occupation with the 349th Infantry Regiment of the 85th Division in Trieste. Recently returning from overseas he was assigned to the 325th Infantry Regiment of the 82nd Airborne Division.

Reminful of its combat background of Salerno Beach, Normandy Invasion and cracking the Ziegfried Line in the Ardennes this proud unit now geared to the peacetime Army carries on with the same efficiency that won for it the Presidential Unit Citation in Normandy. This organization is assigned the responsibility of furnishing combat demonstration problems for the Infantry School at Fort Benning. Here troops from all over the world see the nearest possible thing in peacetime to actual combat.

Corporal Kapcewich expects to take further advantage of the opportunities for advancement offered to men of the Regular Army as fast as their ability and initiative merit.

START DAY WITH A GOOD BREAKFAST

A good breakfast is especially important for these snappy cold winter mornings. If members of your family seem uninterested in food at breakfast time, perhaps you need to put forth a little more effort to plan for variety in that first meal of the day.

Colorful — well-seasoned foods and attractive service will help stimulate breakfast appetites. Fruit or fruit juice is the perfect starter for this important meal of the day. There is no need for lack of variety in this course with fresh, canned, dried, and frozen fruits from which to choose.

Broiled grapefruit might please the family some frosty morning. Prepare the halves of grapefruit in the usual way, sprinkle each half with one tablespoon of brown sugar, dot with butter, and pop under the broiler for a few minutes until well heated and faintly browned on top.

Some type of protein food, such as egg, bacon, or ham, a whole grain cereal and milk, is needed to complete the meal. For an economical breakfast, the protein food may be extended by using eggs in muffins, or French toast. Oatmeal (rolled oats) gems combine eggs and cereal and are delicious served piping hot with butter and jam or marmalade. Here is a recipe that will make eight large or twelve small gems:

1 egg
2 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup sifted enriched flour
2-3 cup rolled oats (quick or regular, uncooked)
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 cup milk
3 tablespoons melted shortening
Beat the egg and add the dry ingredients alternately with the milk. Put in the shortening and mix until the ingredients will hold together. Drop by tablespoonfuls on a greased sheet or put into muffin tins.

Bake in a 425 degree Fahrenheit oven 20 minutes.

Court House

Registration
Outlook Heavy

Indications Point To Unusual Registration, At Least For General Election

OTHER EVENTS
IN COURT HOUSE

Indications for the 1948 registration point to an unusually heavy number, in the opinion of A. Lewis Conn, chief clerk to the registration bureau.

Mr. Conn bases his forecast upon two things. First, the total registration for the county is down to about 38,000. There is a possibility of about 47,000 for the county. Secondly, this is presidential year and both the Republican and Democratic parties will put on a drive to enroll voters.

It was so in 1944, the last presidential year. In the last week of the registration for the general election lines formed at the registration office and on the last day, the line kept the clerical force busy until 9 o'clock at night.

When the rush comes there will be delays. The registration books are open now, with an average of two or three a day registering. Over 2200 were disqualified in the last withdrawal of cards of voters who had not voted for two years. About 650 of the gross number sent out qualified themselves. Registering just now is a matter of minutes. Next September it may mean standing in line for an hour or more.

Build a FIREPLACE

That Warms All the Room

THE HEATILATOR FIRE-PLACE actually saves and circulates the extra heat that ordinary fireplaces waste up the chimney. It is a hollow steel form around which the masonry is easily laid. Cool air is drawn from floor level, heated and returned to every corner of the room.

The Heatilator Fireplace is a correctly designed steel form around which any style fireplace can be built with greater ease and accuracy. By eliminating usual construction faults, this scientific unit prevents smoking. Surveys show that over half the old-type fireplaces smoke. Build around the Heatilator and be sure of success. Stop in and see the Heatilator, or phone for big folder and prices.

Retirement Pay In Army-Navy Being Probed

By FRANK B. ALLEN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—Congressional investigators revealed today that at least 81 former Army and Navy officers earning $10,000 to $125,000 a year in private life are receiving tax-free $550 monthly disability pensions from the government.

All are reported to have been retired for disabilities not received in combat.

The disclosure was made by a House armed services subcommittee as it opened two weeks of public hearings on the Army and Navy disability retirement system.

To determine "abuses" Rep. Elston (R) Ohio, subcommittee chairman, declared that the purpose of the hearings is to determine whether there have been "abuses" of the retirement pay law.

If so, he added, new legislation will be drafted.

Elston stated his group is particularly anxious to determine whether there had been discrimination between regular and reserve officers and between officers and enlisted men in awarding disability pensions. Pensions received for retirement without disability are taxable.

The data made public by the subcommittee was based on months of investigation, on the basis of questionnaires sent to 2,741 officers who held the rank of Army colonel (and captain in the Navy) or above. The number totaled 2,335.

Be Quick To Treat Bronchitis

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.

Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

INTRODUCTIONS

"Please give me instructions on introductions for all occasions—in introducing friends to parents, to a husband and a wife, and tell me which are preferable forms, etc."

Answer: There are many accepted forms of introduction, so you need not limit yourself to any stereotyped form. For instance, if you are introducing two of your friends who have long heard of each other, you may say: "Ruth Jordan, this is Helen Jones. You two have heard so much of each other I've wanted you to meet."

Other forms, according to circumstances are: "Miss Smith, this is Miss Jones"; "Miss Smith, please, you met Miss Jones"; "Miss Smith, have you met Miss Jones?"

When two people are of the same age, sex and rank, it matters not which name is mentioned first.

Block Soviets On Dr. Oscar Lange

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Feb. 2.—(INS)—The United States defeated attempts by the Soviet bloc today to ram through election of Poland's representative Dr. Oscar Lange, to the vice-chairmanship of the economic and social council.

Charles Malik, delegate from Lebanon, was unanimously elected chairman for 1948.

Herman De Santa Cruz of Chile was chosen as first vice president after Russia and Bielo-Russia announced abstention from the vote in protest to the United States opposition to Lange.

Grimes-Hillson Prep For Wednesday Clash

Only 48 hours remain until National Amateur Champion Paddy Grimes of Allquippa matches brain and brawn with Chuck Hillson, Golden Glove champion of Youngstown in the grand finale of an eight-bout fistic show in the Arena. They're doctored to fight at 147 pounds Wednesday night. Grimes, son of a fighter, Paddy Grimes, Sr., who is well known along the local fistic rials, earned his laurels by winning out in the Boston tournament, following which he went to Hawaii and beat the best of the islands had to present. Only recently at a dinner in Pittsburgh, he was awarded the John Taylor trophy, which is awarded annually to the outstanding athlete of the district. Grimes is trained and handled by Eddie Yarosz, brother to Ted, former middleweight champion. Pretty Fair Fighter Hillson is regarded as a pretty fair amateur fighter. He knocked out Kid Charity to win the 147-pound welterweight championship of Youngstown recently. Fans will remember the hard fight Charity gave Frankie Moran several years ago in a bout at Taggart stadium. Matchmaker Tommy Leach of the Jefferson Athletic club has arranged seven supporting bouts between fighters who will fight and it is likely that there'll be 100 more thrills in this fight show than there were in the recent pro' clash, despite Elkins Brothers k. o. of Jeff Clanton. Lou Burelli, a rugged, tough middleweight of New Castle, will uphold the city's end against Jimmy O'Hara of Youngstown, in one of the bouts. Burelli put up a thunderous fight against Gene Sebastian of Sharon, in his last go in the Arena.

Titans Trimmed At Philadelphia

St. Joseph's Too Strong For Westminster Saturday Night, McCullough Stars (Special To The News) PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 2.—St. Joseph's college had too many big size guns in action here Saturday night at Convention Hall and topped a scrappy Westminster Titan five from New Wilmington, Pa., 75 to 66, with Senesky, McDermitt and Guokas the scoring stars. For the western Pennsylvanians the work of Allan McCullough of Bradford, Pa., was sensational with 18 points, Bruce Wagner of Cochran, Pa., with 11 and Chet Dembinski of New Wilmington with 13. At Millersville The Westminster team remained in Philadelphia Saturday night and then headed for Millersville, Pa., where they tackle the strong Millersville State Teachers tonight enroute back home. AL Has 260-Game Exhibition Card

CHICAGO, Feb. 2.—(INS)—American League baseball clubs will play 260 exhibition games between March 6 and season's opening this year, and an even 150 of them are inter-league scuffles with National League rivals. The remainder of the junior circuit's exhibition agenda includes 34 inter-league games and 76 against minor league foes. Fourteen night games will flavor the A. L. program, which carries 13 more exhibition tilts than the clubs carded in 1947 and, in further contrast to last year, includes no foreign appearances such as the New York Yankees made in Puerto Rico, Venezuela and Havana. Additional spring training information issued by American League headquarters in Chicago last week shows that all but one team will report to spring training on March 1. The lone exception, Washington's Senators, will summon battersmen to training quarters at Orlando, Fla., on Feb. 29 and the rest of the squad on March 6. Other training bases: Boston—Sarasota, Fla.; Chicago—Pasadena, Cal.; Cleveland—Tucson Ariz.; Detroit—Lakeland, Fla.; New York—St. Petersburg, Fla.; Philadelphia—West Palm Beach, Fla.; St. Louis—San Bernardino, Cal. The National League's defeat in the All-Star game in 1946 was the worst in history. The score was 12-0.

Teams which bowl in the ABC this spring have a care, because a team composed of sport scribers has been entered by the Universal Bowling and Billiard Supply company of Chicago. The Chicago writers are: Byron Schoeman, Herald-American; Jim Segriti, Tribune; Angelo Biondo, News; Ted Damata, Times, and Sammy Weinstein, Ansolor and WCFB broadcaster. ... Venton Yablonski, Columbia U. fullback, who was drafted by the Chi-Cards two years ago, has been signed for 1948. He played fullback in the East-West game, which was won by the East. He is a good carrier, in addition to being a kick-off and place-kicking specialist. ... Wednesday night's amateur fistic fuss, which will feature National Champion Paddy Grimes of Allquippa vs. Youngstown GG Champion Charles Hillson, at 147, looks to be the best punch party arranged in some time.

DODDS STREAKS TO NEW RECORD

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—(INS)—"Operation: stopwatch," a pursuit of that elusive goal known as the four minute mile, has a swift and sturdy apostle today, the Rev. Gilbert Dodds of the Boston A. A. Not since the barrel-chested Kansan, Glenn Cunningham, has an American miler played such havoc with competition and the more fickle rival—the clock. Saturday, a jammed Madison Square Garden gasped in surprise and glee as the bespectacled parson whisked to the fastest indoor mile in American track history—a spectacular 4:05.3. Dodds' time also tied Gunder Hagg's American outdoor record set at Cambridge, Mass., in 1943. His first quarter was phenomenal—58.4. His time for the half was almost as good, 2:00.8. In the third, instead of the characteristic sprint, Dodds eased to 3:03.9. Consequently, he had enough left to drive all the way. His fourth quarter was 61.4, the fastest he has ever negotiated with vital fourth. As a result of his brilliant success, Dodds retired the $500 Rodman Wanamaker cup, gained a leg on the Rodman Wanamaker International trophy (the second consecutive year); he won a gold watch; and for breaking Church Fenske's Millrose record of 4:07.4 he will receive still another prize.

CATHOLIC CENTER GAMES

The St. Mary's Jrs. defeated the Spartans 42 to 35 with Carrigan scoring 19 points for St. Mary's and Bongivengo scoring 16 points for the Spartans. In the second game St. Mary's were defeated by the Youngstown Commuters 44 to 49. Tonight at 8 will find St. Mary's meeting the strong Greenville K. of C. team. The last game of the first half in the grade school loop will be played Tuesday, Feb. 3, with St. John's and St. Lucy's the only team playing.

Four Recruits Signed By Bucs

Front Office Says Club Not Interested In Acquiring Eddie Miller

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 2.—(INS)—The Pittsburgh Pirates today announced receipt of signed contracts from four recruit battersmen and at the same time indicated they were not interested in acquiring Shortstop Eddie Miller from the Cincinnati Reds. The recruit battersmen are pitchers Cal McLish, Jimmy Walsh and Jim Kleckley and Catcher Leroy Jarvis. All four men were in the minor leagues last season. The Pirates also announced they had signed "Sallor Bill" Posedel to a scout's contract. Posedel will work the Rocky Mountain district and get his orders from Babe Herman, chief scout on the Pacific coast. Regarding Miller, who recently took a blast at Red Manager Johnny Neun and several teammates, Pirate General Manager Roy Hamer stated his club would go along with Stan Rojek and Pete Castiglione at shortstop. The Phillies will have the largest baseball squad in training at Clearwater, Fla., in March, something like 70 players.

Only Two Cage Powers Unbeaten

N.Y.U. And Columbia Hold Clean Slates In Hectic College Season (By International News Service) Intra-state rivalries, garbled standings, and dog-eat-dog collisions took over the collegiate basketball spotlight today as, with only two clubs still unbeaten, fans shifted their interest to wild-eyed conference races from coast to coast. A brief look at the independents showed New York University still undefeated, with a record of 12 straight, and Bradley of Peoria, Ill., running next with the eye-opening mark of 20 triumphs in 21 games. Another independent, Fordham, was dropped from the unbeaten picture Saturday night by an aroused Syracuse team which in breaking a three-game losing streak of its own conquered the Rams, 78 to 65. Unaffiliated with any conference, Notre Dame will make basketball headlines tonight when, in the evening's top struggle, it plays host to Kentucky (18-1). The latter school has won all three of its Southeastern Conference games, but is running a bad second to Tulane, which has won eight, lost none, in S.E.C. play. Columbia, the other unbeaten team besides N.Y.U., has an overall record of 11 straight triumphs, but like Kentucky the Lions are having conference trouble too. They're no better off than tied with Cornell for first place in the Ivy league, each having won its three conference tests to date.

BARBARA SCOTT REMAINS AMATEUR

ST. MORITZ, Feb. 2.—(INS)—Barbara Ann Scott, world's women's figure skating champion and favorite to win the Olympic championship for Canada, firmly denied today any intention of turning professional. Miss Scott, composed and blonde, told International News Service in an exclusive interview: "Everyone keeps saying I am going to turn professional and that's one more reason why I probably won't. I don't like to be forced into anything. "But the main reason I don't think I'll turn professional is I would have to leave competition which I love and would have little chance to work on school figures which interest me far more than free-style. "If I taught, I think I would just stand around and watch my pupils. "No, I think I'll stay an amateur, for a while anyway."

Norwegian Sets New Speed Skating Mark

ST. MORITZ, SWITZERLAND, Feb. 2.—(INS)—Sverre Farstad of Norway, flashed over 1,500-meters of Glittering ice to a new record of 2:17-6/10 today in that speed skating feature of the 1948 winter-sports Olympics. The old Olympic record, 2:19-2/10, was made in 1936 by Farstad's fellow-countryman, Charles Mathison. With the first returns on the 1,500-metre event yet to come in, John Werkert, of Minneapolis, had turned in the best American performance up to that time. He was clocked in 2:20 2/10, one full second of the old record. Meanwhile, Bob Fitzgerald, and Ken Henry, Chicago, had fared rather badly, the latter's time being 2:24-6/10. Fitzgerald finished even further back on the official chronometers, doing 2:27 for the so called "melter mile." Meanwhile, that most precarious of winter-sports endeavors, the downhill ski-race, started under skies whose brilliant sunshine served to make the precipitous, jagged course all the more dangerous. It was reflected from the snow and ice with a diamond-like glitter, almost blinding in its intensity. Sweden, 32 points; Norway, 30; Finland, 21; Switzerland, 18; United States, 14; Belgium and Holland, three; Great Britain, 2; Italy, one, and Canada, one-fourth.

Operations Restore Voice To Waitress Silent For 15 Years

Mrs. Edna Beeler, 21, Starts Talking Again: Growth In Throat Removed

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 2.—(INS)—A 21-year-old waitress leaves Philadelphia for her home in Knoxville, Tenn., today with her voice restored after 15 years of silence.

Mrs. Edna Beeler, an attractive redhead, will be accompanied to the southern city by her mother, Mrs. Mary Jewell Spence.

Mrs. Spence will have one main job on her hands enroute home—and that is trying to keep her daughter from talking too much and straining her new-found power of speech.

Mrs. Beeler was operated on last week in Jefferson hospital by Dr. Louis Clerf, who removed a growth from her vocal cords.

Operations Successful

When she was six years old, the Knoxville girl suffered a bad cold and she couldn't talk above a hoarse whisper. A trip to California's climate did no good.

Finally, Knoxville physicians recommended to the five-foot-three, 122-pound waitress that she visit Philadelphia to see Dr. Clerf. Two operations followed and proved successful.

Mrs. Beeler's first remark upon speaking aloud was:

"It don't sound like me at all."

Then she really started talking and ended up by calling her friends in Knoxville. They promised she'd get a huge reception when she arrived back home.

Save Life Of Man Overcome In Koppel Home

KOPPEL, Pa., Feb. 2.—Efficient work by first aid teams of the Duquesne Light Company and the Beaver Falls Fire Department was credited with saving the life of Thomas G. Cearfoss, Jr., 19, of Wampum, Saturday night after he had been overcome with carbon monoxide gas while reportedly taking a bath in the basement of his father's home at 314 Fourth street, Koppel.

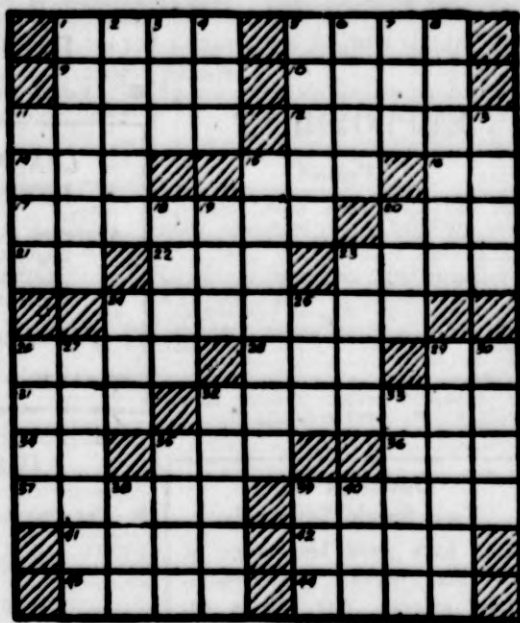

The first aid team worked an hour to revive the young man, who then was taken to Providence Hospital, Beaver Falls, but was discharged Sunday. Members of the family said the fumes apparently were caused by a defective hot water heater.

THREE AUTOS IN CRASH
Three cars figured in an auto accident in Grant street at Sampson, at 10:40 p. m. Saturday. According to police, Thomas Williams, of 917 Morton street, drove a car which struck that of John Davidson of Bessemer, whose car, in turn struck that of Fred H. Jenkins of R.D. 2, which was turning from Sampson street into Grant street.

Less than one-half cent per package of cigarettes goes for advertising costs, it is reported.
